U.S. VISA AND IMMIGRATION-RELATED INFORMATION

For every immigration document you receive, check that the spelling of your name and your date of birth are exactly the same as listed on your passport. Your passport must be valid for six months after your intended entry into the United States. Copy all documents prior to departure. Carry all originals with you when you travel, and keep copies in a separate place.

OBTAINING A VISA

1. Receive I-20 from CSU

Your I-20 form should be included in the packet with this pre-arrival guide. You will be required to submit this document when you apply for a visa at a U.S. Embassy or Consulate.

2. Pay the SEVIS I-901 fee

At least two weeks before your visa interview, pay this fee online at fmjfee.com. Type your name exactly as it appears on the I-20 form. Print a copy of the online receipt and bring it to your visa interview. (Canadians should present this receipt at the U.S. border.) Make copies of this receipt and keep it with your other immigration documents.

3. Make your visa appointment at a U.S. Embassy or Consulate

Find your local U.S. Embassy or Consulate at usembassy.gov and schedule an appointment with them as early as possible. The wait time for a visa interview varies, but is always longer during the months of June, July, and August. Depending on your course of study and nationality, the visa officer may also have to get special clearances, which can require additional time. The earliest the U.S. Embassy or Consulate can issue an F-1 visa is 120 days before the start date of your program in the U.S. If you are applying for a J-1 visa, you may apply any time before the beginning of your program.

5. Pay visa application fee

Follow the instructions on your local U.S. Embassy/Consulate website to pay this fee.

6. Prepare and bring to your visa interview:

Remember to remain calm and answer all the visa officer's questions openly and honestly.

- Passport valid for at least six months
- I-20 form (signed/dated)
- Admission letter
- Two 2" x 2" photographs in the required format
- A receipt of the paid SEVIS I-901 fee
- Financial evidence of sufficient funds to cover tuition and living expenses during your period of study
- Any information that proves that you will return to your home country after finishing your studies in the U.S. This may include proof of property, family, or other ties to your community.

7. Visa Delays

If you are unable to obtain a visa prior to the start date for your have been admitted, contact ISSS (iss.colostate.edu) immediately. You may defer and apply your deposit toward the tuition for the next semester.

ARRIVING IN THE UNITED STATES

1. Plan your arrival

You will not be allowed to enter the country more than 30 days before the start of your program if you are an initial entry student. Plan to arrive the weekend before Orientation on Saturday or Sunday.

Remember: Always carry your original I-20 and passport on your person, not in your luggage!

2. At the port of entry

Proceed to the terminal area for arriving passengers. Present the following documents:

- Passport
- I-20 Form
- Customs Declaration Form (CF-6059), which reflects the address where you will reside, not the address of the school or program.

All visitors entering the U.S. must state their reasons for wishing to enter the country. You will be asked to provide information about your final destination. It is important that you tell the Customs and Border Protection (CBP) officer that you will be a student. Be prepared to include the name and address of the school program in which you are enrolled.

Once your inspection is successfully completed, the inspecting officer will:

- Stamp your passport. Make sure this is stamped with your correct visa type (either F or J), correct date, and marked D/S for Duration of Status
- Assign you an Admission Number (I-94). You can locate your I-94 number at cbp.gov/i94

3. Secondary Inspection Requirements

If the CBP officer at the port of entry cannot initially verify your information or you do not have all of the required documentation, you may be directed to an area known as “secondary inspection.” Here the CBP Officer will attempt to verify your status by using the Student and Exchange and Visitor Information System (SEVIS). If the officer needs to verify information with your school or program, contact:

Mark Hallett, Senior Director of International Student and Scholar Services: +1 (970) 491-5917. In case of an emergency, Mark can be paged after-hours by calling the Colorado State University Police Department: +1 (970) 491-6425.

4. International Post-Arrival Check-in

All new international students complete an immigration document review after arriving in the United States. You will receive additional information about this process by email. Please make sure you have the required documents:

- Passport (including the U.S. entry stamp)
- I-20 form
- The name and address of an emergency contact in the U.S. or your home country
- Current U.S. address and phone number

International Programs requires these documents to register your arrival in the SEVIS system as required by the U.S. government. If a report is not submitted, you may be considered in violation of your immigration status in the U.S. If you cannot complete this process online, please visit the International Programs in Laurel Hall as soon as possible with the documents above. You will not be able to register for classes until this requirement is completed.

IMPORTANT INFO

For helpful information on applying for a U.S. visa, visit: bit.ly/studentvisatips

TRANSFERRING FROM ANOTHER U.S. SCHOOL

If you are transferring from another school in the United States and already have an F-1 visa, you must complete the Transfer in Clearance Form (international.colostate.edu/iss/students/new-incoming-students/transfer-in-clearance-form/) as soon as you have been admitted to CSU. If you do not intend to transfer your SEVIS record, please contact CSU to obtain a new I-20 for re-entry purposes. Do not use your previous school's I-20 to re-enter the United States.

BRINGING DEPENDENTS

Your spouse or child(ren) under 21 years old may accompany you on an F-2 dependent visa. F-2 visa holders are not allowed to work or pursue a degree program or any other full-time language training program. Additional funding and documentation may need to be provided for your dependents.

If family members accompany you to CSU:

- Living expenses may increase by 50% because of increased housing, transportation, food, and childcare costs.

- CSU does not offer spouse or dependent health insurance plans. Other health insurance options for your family can be found at connectforhealthco.com. Spouses or domestic partners of eligible students may access the CSU Health Network by paying the student health fee on a semester basis or paying for medical services as they are received.
- F-2 dependents may not work under any circumstances. J-2 dependents may apply for work permission from the USCIS only if the income earned is to be used for support of the spouse or children, not for support of the J-1 student or scholar. Learn more at: international.colostate.edu/iss/resources/employment/

Bring enough money to cover your expenses during your first few days in the U.S., such as food, transportation, personal items, and temporary housing. These expenses can be covered with major credit cards, debit cards and ATM cards, or traveler's checks. We don't recommend carrying more than $1,000 in cash. You can set up a checking account at a local bank once you arrive, and wire money electronically as needed.

The CSU Off-Campus Life office has many great resources for international students looking for housing, including a useful tool:

ocl.colostate.edu/international-students.

Finding furnished apartments is rare. Plan to pay your first and last month's rent before you move in plus a deposit.

Most apartment owners require a one-year lease. Visit an off-campus rental in-person before committing and signing a lease. Student Legal Services at CSU can help you with the lease signing process to make sure that the lease is legal and appropriate. Visit Student Legal Services online at: sls.colostate.edu.

TEMPORARY HOUSING

Students are responsible for making their own housing arrangements and should do so before arriving in Fort Collins. For information about temporary housing, please visit:

international.colostate.edu/iss/resources/housing/temporary-housing/

IMPORTANT INFO

MONEY AND BANKING

CASH

When you arrive in the United States, you should bring at least $500 in cash to cover immediate needs such as books, a cell phone, and other living expenses. Cash is accepted at most locations.

- One dollar ($1) is equal to 100 cents.
- Common coins include:
 - Penny (1 cent)
 - Nickel (5 cents)
 - Dime (10 cents)
 - Quarter (25 cents)
- Common paper bill amounts are: $1, $5, $10, $20, $50, $100.

CREDIT/BANK CARDS

In the United States, the most widely accepted bank and credit cards are Visa and MasterCard. Bank cards can either be debit, which pulls funds directly from your bank account, or credit, which you pay off at the end of each month. Apply for a credit card in your home country before you travel since it may be difficult to get one after you leave.

BANK ACCOUNTS

It is not recommended to regularly carry large amounts of cash with you, so once you arrive, you will need to open a bank account. To open an account, you will need two pieces of photo identification (your passport and your student ID/Ramcard,) your U.S. mailing address, and money to deposit. During orientation, CSU will give you information about local banks, and can help you open a bank account.

There are two banks located inside the Lory Student Center.

Plan to transfer enough money to cover your expenses for one semester. Consider your living situation and lifestyle to plan ahead. Will you live on campus? Do you like to eat at restaurants? Do you need to buy clothes or more school supplies?

TRANSPORTATION

BICYCLES

Many people ride bicycles in Fort Collins. Fort Collins is a community that is nationally recognized for its support of bicyclists and the resources that exist here. Bicycling is a great way to get across town and campus easily.
